Dietary supplements:

a natural approach to health

For any of our patients who might have personal wellness goals beyond merely wanting to be pain free, SKAATES Family Chiropractic offers direct online access to high quality dietary supplements through our partnership with Metagenics, a leading innovator in the functional nutrition industry. If you are going to spend money on supplements, do your body a favor and get the best.

Metagenics proprietary products are available online. Just log in and browse for the products that you or your doctor have identified to best address your health objectives, and enter the practitioner code (below) when prompted. It's that easy. Your supplements will be delivered directly to you, when and where you need them.
